YES THEATER

A Message from YES Theater

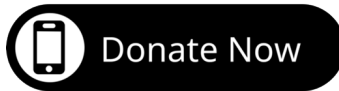

We are so fortunate to live in a community that values the importance of theater as highly as ours does. The feedback that we get from the creative staff that we work with is that they are amazed that our children have access to this type of opportunity and that they are grateful to be a part of it. A director told his young students to please be sure to "thank your families" for giving them such a gift. We couldn't agree more. Thank you to all of our generous YES Business Partners, dedicated families, supportive teachers, staff & administrators.

Many thanks to the YES Foundation and its supporters for providing our children with Music, Art & Theater. The YES Foundation values a complete education which includes the arts and takes an active role in ensuring their quality and sustainability.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Director's Note:

The script for "The 12 Huntsmen" seems like a standard fairy tale retelling at first glance. Once digging into this material what we found was an opportunity for the actors to create as opposed to recite given material. Portions of this show are chosen at random which forces the actors to think on their feet. They do not know what costume, prop or set piece they will need until seconds before it is needed. They must be prepared for any given outcome, an important life skill. My favorite part of this journey has been the writing and choreographing of the songs in the script. All we were given was lyrics and a few students stepped up to compose and choreograph thus making it their own. This is the students' show, Devin and I have just been there to point them in the right direction.

Thank you,
Jenny Boynton, Director

Site Producer's Note:

Under the brilliant direction of the creative team, Director Jenny Boynton and Assistant Director Devin Parker-Sullivan, it has been illuminating to watch our incredible cast members bring the amazing characters of The Twelve Horsemen to life. We are grateful to them for dedicating countless hours to our children, as well as their vision, craft, and passion for this production! This production was especially complicated.

I know I speak for all families when I stand and applaud Anna Barker and Kelly Miller for keeping YES alive and on course Sarah McKereghan for managing the Kid Tech program as well as all technical details at the playhouse, including the on-site safety for all of our kids. Kristin Bakowski, thank you for designing and constructing the fabulous set. Also, a special thanks to Liz Mullins for coordinating Kid Tech, Krista Lee as Costume Coordinator, and Virginia Foxton for taking on Props Coordinator.

To each and every parent/guardian/magical human in these children's' lives who has participated in their artistic endeavor by supporting this production with your supervision, logistical coordination, construction & painting expertise, shuttling, cheerleading, and willingness to run blocking & lines... we thank you. Our kids benefit greatly from this experience and enjoy a bit of theatrical magic in their day to day thanks to all of your efforts!
